Évora is one of Portugal's jewels, located in the Alentejo region, full of architectural and cultural works. It is a museum, surrounded by a city, a UNESCO world heritage site in 1986.

The city of Évora was founded in 1166, with its roots dating back to Roman times. It lived its golden age in the 16th century, when it was the residence of Portuguese kings. It has just over 50,000 inhabitants and is one of the richest monuments in Portugal.

One of the main highlights of Évora Portugal is the Capela dos Ossos, with its walls decorated with human bones. Other important attractions are the Cathedral of Évora, the Água de Prata Aqueduct, the Roman ruins.

Fatima

Óbidos is a beautiful walled medieval village dominated by a castle, located in the district of Leiria.

Founded in 1195, it is one of the best preserved medieval villages, one of the jewels of Portugal. The interior of the wall is full of whitewashed houses in white, blue and yellow, decorated with colorful flowers.

At the top of the small and charming historic town, the imposing Castle of Óbidos (14th century) dominates the landscape. Churches, restaurants, handicraft shops and other shops are scattered along the narrow streets of the walled village.

Nazaré became world famous for the giant waves that form in the Nazaré Canyon. However, this city in Portugal offers other attractions that give even more reasons to visit.

In addition to the waves, the Shrine of Nossa Senhora de Nazaré, at the top of the mountain, also stands out. There is also the Suberco viewpoint, which offers a spectacular view of the beach of Nazaré and the city.
